EVENTS

As we look in retrospect over the highlights of a year which will soon be history, EVENTS — both traditional and innovated, contributed greatly in helping make our days exciting and colorful. Homecoming, the Christmas Dance, and all of our events, brought us together in the planning stages, and in the events themselves.

We looked forward to all of our events with much anticipation, and we look back on them with lingering, happy memories, and with PRIDE!

Sadie Hawkins

Togetherness for the Sadie Hawkins

This year's Turnabout dance took an original turn for the funnier when it was retitled "Sadie Hawkins" and all the couples went "hill billy!" Everyone got into the spirit of the night and most couples found their way to the "Hitchin' Post" to go through a mock marriage ceremony.

"One, two, cha-cha-cha."

"We just got married!!!"

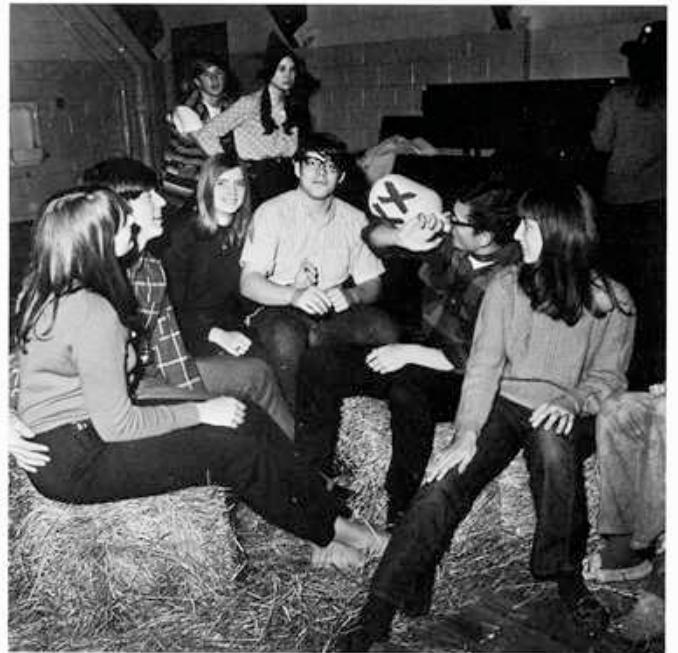

"Look! There it is! A purple and green spotted what-cha-ma-call-it!!"

"I told you I was allergic to this stuff."

"I've heard of 'Pass-Around-Pack' but ..."

Christmas Dance

Fantasy in Frost

Fantasy in Frost, the Christmas dance, an innovation this year of Yearbook and F.H.A. was a smashing success. Couples danced to the music of the 'City Limits' who provided a very enjoyable atmosphere.

Despite his busy pre-Christmas rush even Santa Claus and 3 of his elves managed to find a few minutes to stop in.

"All together now, a one, and a two ..."

"Celebrate, celebrate, dance to the music."

Santa's little (?) elves..

"Look what I found under the tree!"

"I think it just ate through the bottom of the cups."

"I feel like I have two left feet."

"Don't I know you from somewhere?"

Homecoming

“The Wonderful World of Disney”

As always, Homecoming was opened with the Snake Dance followed by the bonfire, which took three tries to light.

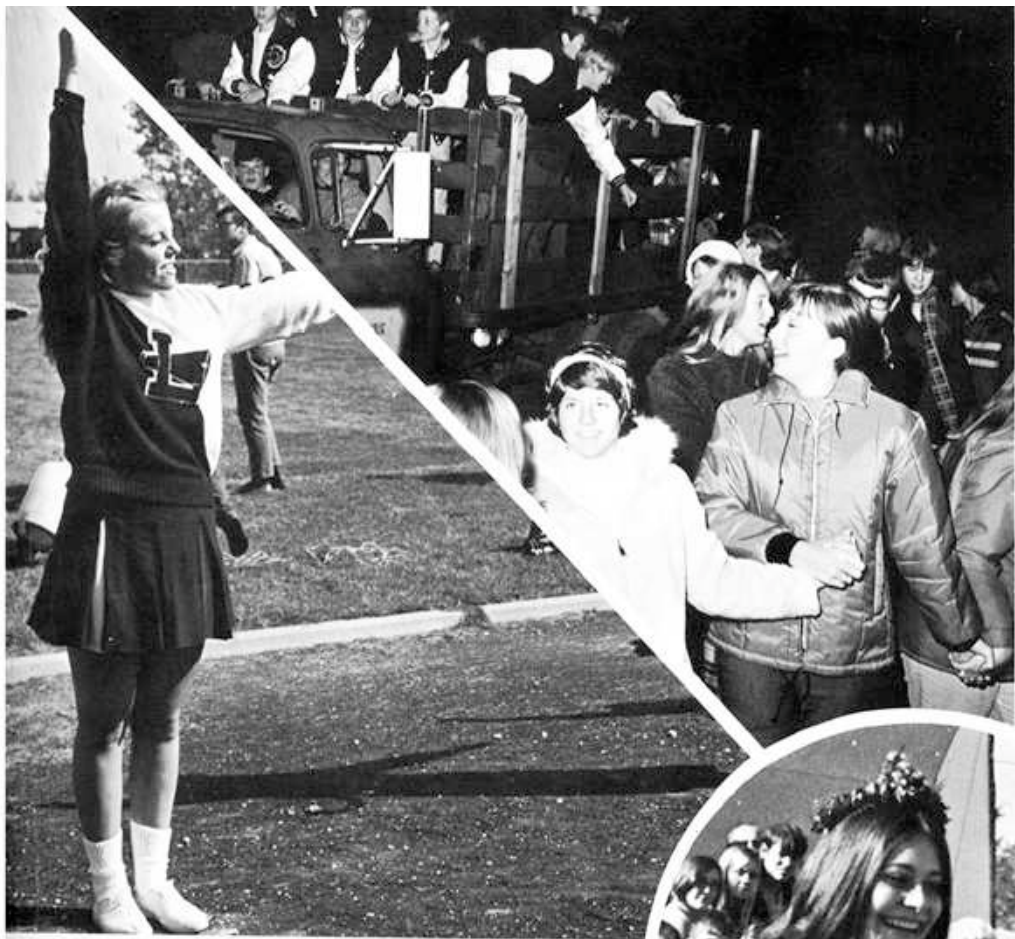

The Pep Rally was held in the field with cheers and speeches given to psych up the team for a victory. While this was going on five girls were shivering nervously waiting hopefully for the announcement of which one would reign over the events. Tom Reasoner then presented these five girls, the Homecoming Court, and asked our foreign exchange student to be an honorary member. The rally ended with Karen Marovich being announced Queen, and everyone took off to work on their floats in preparation for the parade.

The weather was great for a parade and all went well. There was a new float entered in the parade this year — the Alumni Float — which goes to show you they have pride in their alma mater.

The Seniors topped everyone with a float literally stuck together with wall-paper paste and designed so that Dumbo’s head moved — it took first place. The Sophomores made an excellent showing, however, with a giant Thumper.

Happily enough homecoming was climaxed with a victory for the varsity!

Yearbook Dance

Yearbooks Are for People

To many students, this is what happens at the annual Yearbook Dance. It is the most meaningful soc-hop of the year, for this is the time of the year when all the fun and work of the school year comes to life. Dancing was not the main attraction of this evening. For most students, it was a time to collect famous last words to remember their friends by. This dance marked the end of another great year, and the Vale captured many of the wonderful memories.

It was a great year, while it lasted.

Look! There he is!!

Do you see what I see?!

Quick! Think of something nice to say.

Here you are. Your memories.

Exhaustion + Talent = "The Sound of Music"

Mr. Rapp has "never had a flop" and "Sound of Music" was no exception. The cast received a standing ovation — a man couldn't ask for a more excellent way to end a successful directing career.

There were of course many troubles on the way to opening night: sets not made, everybody singing the melody rather than the harmony, dances being done by uncoordinated people, and missed cues — but fortunately during the last week everything pulled together for a terrific show.

How do you solve a problem like Maria ... ?

Sure we're brats! But once you get to know us we're OK!

Clorox NOT needed here!

Drama

Harvey Strikes Again

If ever you find an invisible, six foot tall, white rabbit on your doorstep, don't fight it! It might be Harvey, the Pooka, direct from his engagement in the L.C.H.S. Drama, "Harvey". Under the direction of Mrs. Beverly Fiore, the able cast and crew brought Harvey to life, and made the Fall Drama once more follow the tradition of success.

I warned you it would turn out like this!

Yes, my dear, tell me more.

Hmmph! Shoddy merchandise!

Only her hairdresser knows for sure.

That's right, two subscriptions to Playboy and to the Catholic Digest.

Talent Show

Around the World in Eighty Minutes

This year's Talent Show produced many surprising and enjoyable acts ranging from the quick and humorous skits of the "Funny Company" to "Prelude in C# Major."

By M.C.ees Debbie Rosser, Julane Sullivan, and Mike Yackle, the audience was mystically transported to England with a medley of songs from "My Fair Lady." Next, off to France with the Can-Can done in gay Paree'.

Then to Latin America with Neil Fischer's "Malaguenea."

Quickly we are whisked over the Pacific to the beautiful Hawaiian Islands with Robin Schedel's "Lovely Hula Hands." On our trek home we are greeted with such familiar strains as "West Side Story," "Paint Your Wagon," and the quarrelsome married couple, "The Bickersons."

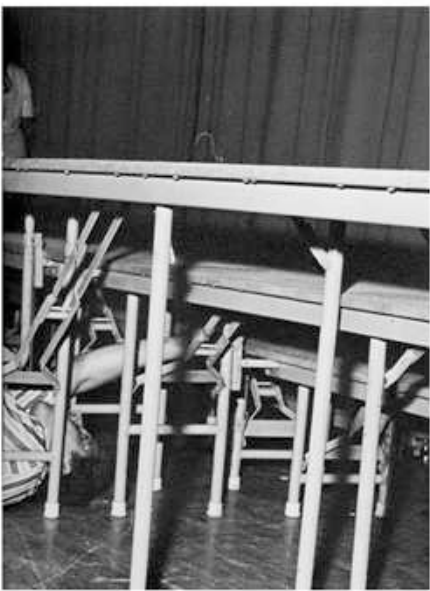

I'll never fall in love again?

Even Bill Esposito shows talent.

What do ya mean ya don't have any money? I gave you a quarter this morning.

Smile! We use Crest.

Prom

Class of '71 Proudly Presents "Castle in the Clouds"

Climbing the spiral staircase to the "castle in the clouds", the romantic atmosphere surrounds you. The silver and blue decor gives the illusion of walking in a cloud, filled with dreams for the evening. Upon crossing the flower covered bridge the castle can be seen in the distance. At the refreshment table the castle attendants stand ready to serve you. The slow, waltzing music hypnotizes you and fills you with a feeling of grandeur. As the evening comes to a close, everyone sadly departs, leaving their dreams in the clouds, taking only their memories with them.

Another couple crosses the bridge to the dance floor.

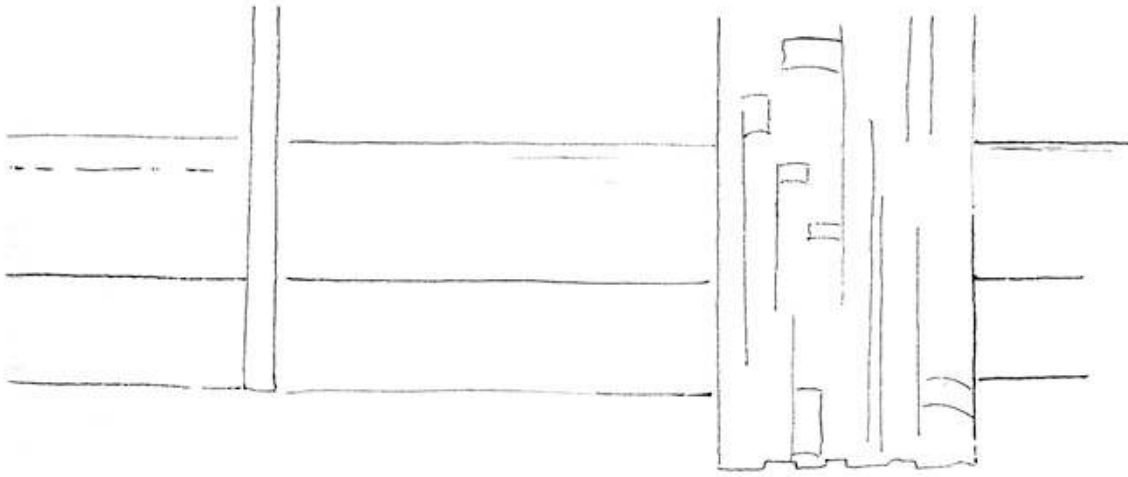

What's coming up next?

ACADEMICS

Bonne Valentour

This world, with its woods and waters, its cities and towns, its plains and hills is our very own inheritance. We are the molders of its destiny. It is imperative for us to pool our knowledge and skills, our hearts and our minds, our faith and freedom, in order for us to enjoy here and now the fruits of our endeavors.

It's a matter of pride to shape a world which we can be proud to present to the generation of tomorrow.

Administration & Guidance

What makes LCHS Tic?

The vital organ of our school, the administration, maintains a constant circulation of ideas for a bigger and better school. The administrative staff works hard in planning and coordinating school functions. To fully understand how the school system works, it is necessary to watch the "heart" at work.

Mr. Raymond Miller, Superintendent of Schools.

Counselors help to Guide Decisions

What is guidance? Guidance comes in two packages — Student affairs and counseling.

Student affairs takes care of all the daily problems that arise and keeps tabs on when, where, what you're doing and why you're not where you're supposed to be.

Sooner or later every student peeks through the guidance door.

The Counselors play an important role in the lives of our students. They help the student to choose the courses he must take to reach the goals he has set for himself. The Juniors and the Seniors go through the guidance office for college entrance exams, and their class ranks which become very important to them. The Sophomores and the Freshmen need help in planning their high school years.

Mrs. Maxine Murphy, secretary to Mr. Galovich.

Mr. Harry Jones, Counselor.

Mr. Carl Doolen, Counselor.

So, you want to be a tattoo artist!

English

The Many Aspects of Our Language

Teaching us not to misquote Shakespeare, split an infinitive, or shrink out of sight when asked for a speech, are few of the jobs of our English department. Freshmen are introduced to Shakespeare and learn to cope with public speaking, Sophomores trace American literature from it's beginning while learning the fine art of composition, Juniors study in close detail English literature, and Seniors have a wide variety of choice that ranges from journalism to world literature.

In all, the English department provides a varied and interesting background in literature, composition, and communication.

Math

A Look Into a World of Facts and Figures

Mathematics can broaden a student's horizon of knowledge no matter what field he enters. To further this idea, Lisle's Math Department works hard teaching students Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry and other aspects of Math.

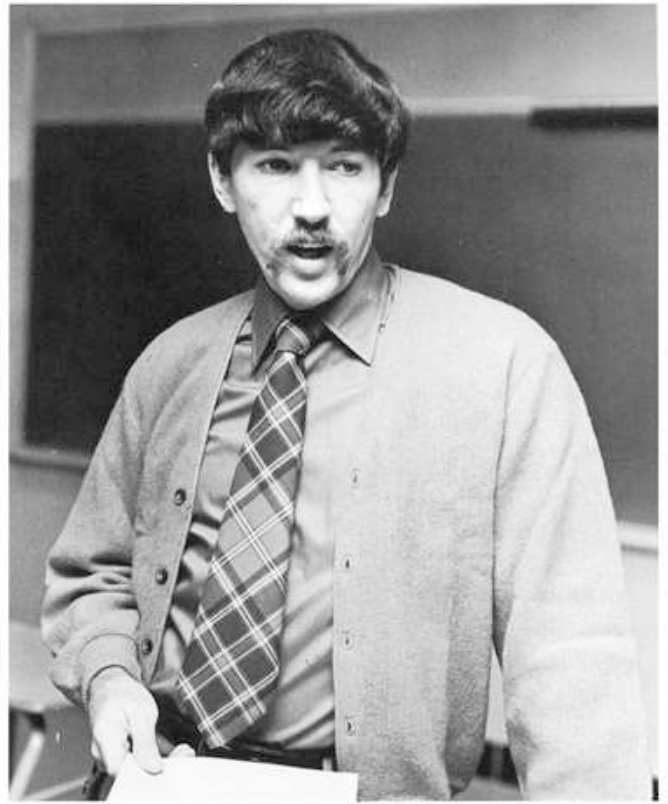

With the growing emphasis on Math in our world, the need to "put two and two together" is not only being answered by reasoning, but by the efforts of our Math teachers.

What's Brewing in the Laboratory?

People ask, "What really is science?" No, it's not just memorizing things like how much is a molecule, and what is the speed of light, or even what is the largest bone in the human body. Science is the investigation of human life and the world around us. After all, isn't the knowledge we gain the key to making our world a better place to live in?

Foreign Languages and Art

Our Goal; Universal Understanding

The first step in understanding our neighboring countries is to be able to communicate with them. Our language department teaches students the Spanish and French languages as well as the cultures of these countries.

Art, which is a highly developed form of communication, teaches students to convey their feelings through the different forms of art offered at L.C.H.S.

Out of the Past Came a Light to the Future

Someone once said that the past is the key to the future, and the History Department provides students with keys to the past. Through Sophomore World Civilization, which traces man's development toward modern government from his appearance on the earth; Junior American History, which gives a study of American government, its development and the Constitution; and Senior Contemporary Problems or Commentary USA, the History Department opens the door to an understanding of our country, its problems and government, and the world.

Quality Training For Successful Careers

For quite a few lucky Lisle Community High School students, vocational training can be found no farther away than the business classrooms. These courses, such as typing, shorthand, business law and bookkeeping enable students to learn the basic skills many need for future careers.

Meanwhile, the Library offers constant sources on almost any subject, and if a student is ever in doubt about a book or magazine, the cry goes up, "Ask the librarian!"

COMPETITION

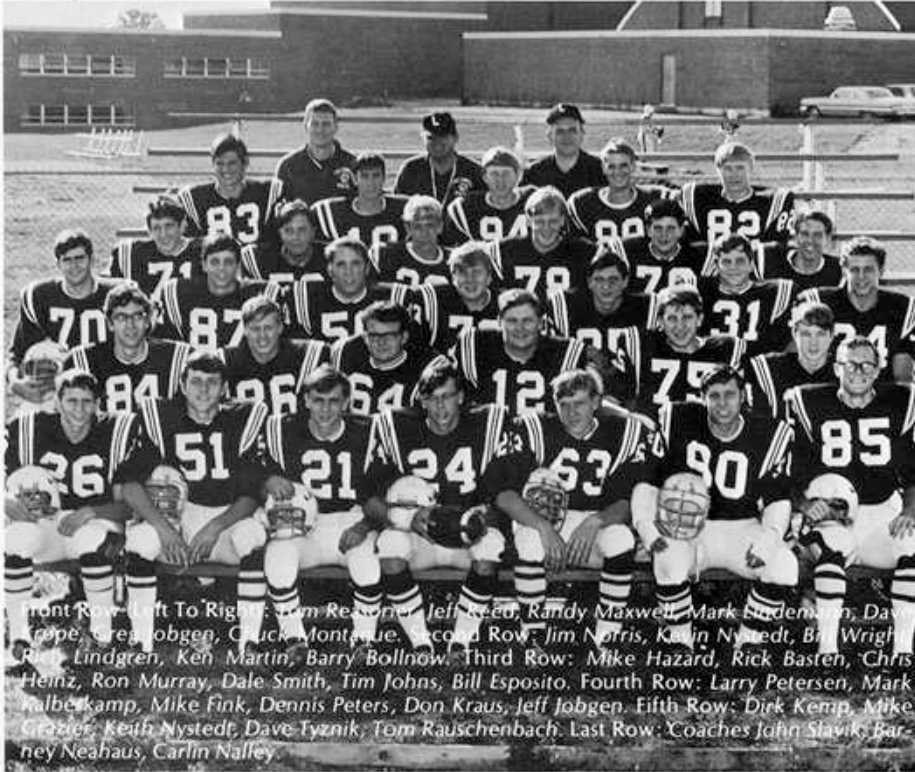

We are members of a great team — we have won battles — we have lost battles. We have pride and we are strongly determined to build on this pride. Like every creative process, building requires giving as well as taking.

As one big team there is a definite place for each and every sportsman to utilize his talents. We will all work together to accomplish our goals!

It's a matter of pride.

Disappointing happiness? This phrase adequately describes this years football season. Disappointing in that the Lions dropped five games out of their nine. Disappointing in that there were some tough losses that hurt in our standings. But the Lions did finish third in the Northeast Conference with a four and three record. Also, there were the individual achievements of Ken Martin, Rich Lindgren, and Jeff Reed, who were named to the N.E.C. All Star Team. Tom Reasoner received Special Mention, and Dave Krope and Mark Lindemann received Honorable Mention in our conference. Reed and Martin were also named to the Suburban Life All County Team. These individuals, as well as the efforts of the other members of the team helped to make the season what it was.

Are you sure we have hospitalization?!?!

Frosh-Soph Football

Sophmores Show a Promising Future

When fall comes around, everyone begins to look forward to the beginning of football season. And the Saturday afternoons spent shivering in the stands. As first the Frosh-Soph and then the Varsity teams run onto the field hungry for another victory. Not as Publicized, but equally hard-working as the Varsity, the Frosh-Soph team usually finishes the season with a roar.

"Hi there! Glad to see you, fella"

"Who put the Mexican jumping beans in the football?"

"That's the funniest looking butterfly ..."

Cross Country

Young Team With Possibilities

Cross Country. A rugged sport that requires a special type of person to compete. This year's team was young and, for the most part, inexperienced. But one can write this year off as one in which experience was gained. Although the team didn't fare too well this year, next year should be a different story.

Wrestling

The Feeling of Winning

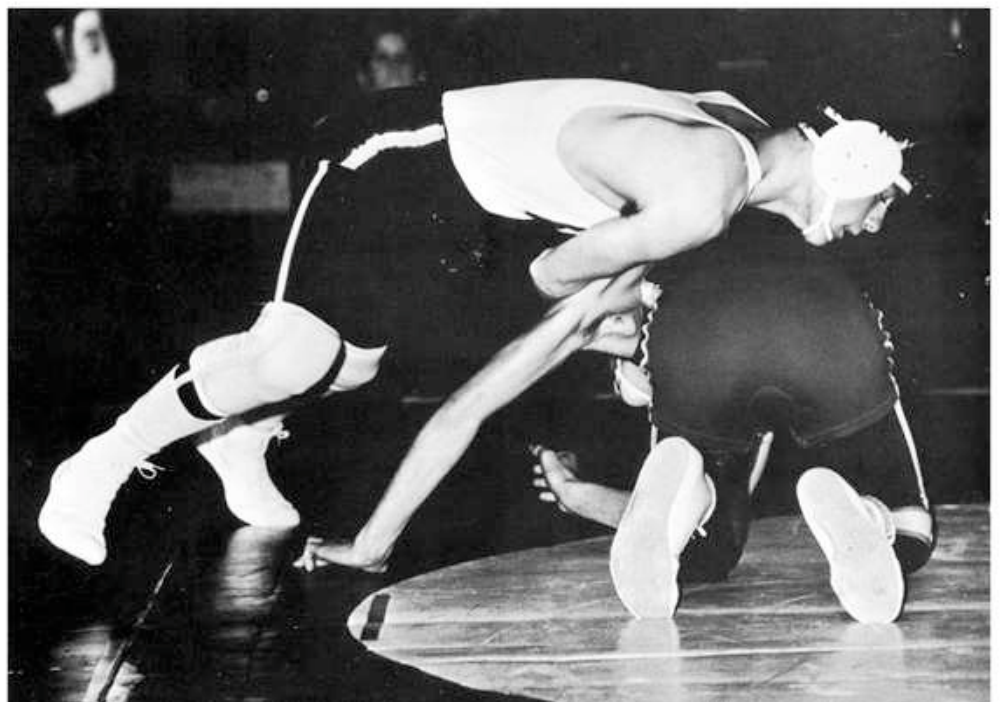

Our mat men are finally getting hold of the feeling of winning. Still a young team, we have been improving rapidly this season. With plenty of experience and a great deal of pride going for us, we shall soon build a new challenge.

Greg Jobgen, a senior, was selected captain of the wrestling team. Russ Koerner, a junior, was selected most valuable player, and was the first wrestler in Lisle's history to take 1st place in the District meet.

Varsity Basketball

The Lions Shoot to Win

The L.C.H.S. Lions never gave up all year long even though their record would seem to prove otherwise. Under the coaching of Mr. McMahon, the team was led by Ken Martin and Rich Lindgren, both of whom received special mentions on the All Conference Team for the 1970-71 season. Also playing important roles during the season were Tom Reasoner and Tim Johns, who both received Honorable mention on the Conference Team.

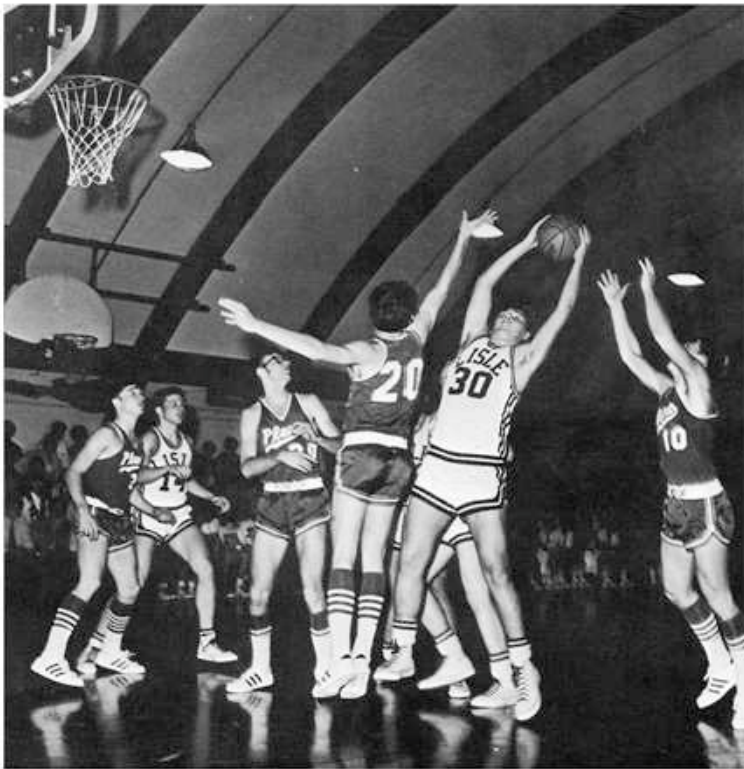

Tim Johns concentrates on dribbling.

Sophomore Basketball

A Proud Group of Sophomores Fights With All Their Might

... but to no avail. Showing great talent on occasion, Coach Diesron's Cubs just couldn't put it together, and were denied a victory throughout their season. Undaunted, they played determined basketball to the end. With Sophomores Gary Mol and Jim Mullins, well over six feet tall, there seems to be some promise in next year's Varsity basketball team.

Gary Mol sinks another basket for Lisle.

First Conference Title by Our Best Team

Sprinting to a victory, Lisle's track team last year made a fine showing at the conference meets. Track-field events, pole-vaulting relays, high jump, and the discus throw provided spring sports excitement.

Baseball, a fascinating sport to watch and enjoy. Lisle gave fans much to enjoy as the team posted a 6 and 3 conference record. The team also had an outstanding individual prospect in the person of Rich Lindgren. Lindgren won the title "Sultan of Swat" as his batting average was the highest in the area. Not only was Lindgren's offensive power an asset to the team, but his defensive work behind the plate was also. Another individual who helped to make the team the success it was, was John Claus, whose hustle sparked the team in every game. This year the Lion's will be looking for an even better season than last year's.

Cheerleaders

Cheerleaders Show Undying Spirit

"Hit 'em again, harder, harder" is a familiar cry at football games, thanks to the energy and enthusiasm of our cheerleaders. Every game, match or meet all year round, they can be found 'way out front, yelling for a Lisle victory and performing their flips and splits to stir up school spirit.

After the game, their job doesn't stop. There's always practice, practice, and more practice to get the routine just right for the sports fans.

"Piggy-back, mommy, piggy-back!"

"Stop being a back-seat driver."

PARTICIPATION

Lisle High School takes pride in offering its students many clubs and extra-curricular activities in which they can participate during the academic year. Their variety span is multi-faceted — from sports to careers, from L.C.H.S. to some far off lands across the seas. These clubs are available to all, and give much enrichment to the student who fit them into their daily schedule.

Keeping Fit and Having Fun . . . All in One

Being a Gym Leader offers girls a chance to be of assistance to the P.E. Department. Leaders assisted with taking roll, leading exercises, and refereeing.

G.A.A. provided extra athletic activities for all interested girls. This year the girls participated in volleyball and basketball, bowling, and swimming.

Lettermens Club was designed for the boys that have earned a varsity 'letter' in the sport of their choice. This year, as always, they sponsored the Senior-Faculty Basketball game.

Student Council & Hall Monitors

Between Student and Administration

Student Council serves the students by offering them education and recreation through assemblies, dances, Jamboree, and other activities. Student Council also gives leadership training to its members and students who participate in their work. As usual, this year Student Council sponsored Homecoming and Jamboree, but their main project was revising the constitution.

Hall Monitors are the students that have the difficult task of patrolling our halls. A few of their duties are to show visitors around the school, run errands for the office, collect absentee slips, and check hall passes. This last item is perhaps the most dangerous, for they never know when they will be confronted by Martians, or maybe even refugees from the johns.

They Start the Presses Rolling

The purpose of the yearbook is to preserve memories and records of events that take place thruout the year. Photographers take pictures of the different events for a lasting pictorial reminiscence. Last summer Jeannie Altendorf and Sherry DeCaire attended a seminar at N.I.U. to learn the many aspects of producing a yearbook. Among the yearbook activities this year were the Christmas, Sadie Hawkins, and Yearbook Dances; a bake sale, and a waffle breakfast.

Learning by doing was the way the Journalism Class operated. It was a one year course for some students, for others it was a semester. In this class the students learned the fundamentals of making a newspaper, and puts their skills to work by producing the ROAR.

I could ride these scissors to town and back and they still wouldn't cut!

Time and Effort Reap Fun and Profit

The Pom Pom Squad displayed their precision marching and dance routines at all the home football and basketball games. Their skillful performances were well worth all the time and preparation that went into them.

Newly formed this year was the Lisle Chapter of International Thespians. Membership in the group must be earned by participation in drama and musical productions.

I've heard of equal opportunity, but ...?

Are all Thespians two-faced?

Honest, Mr. Galovich, I was just combing my hair!

All kinds of odd things pop up around here.

Curses!! Surrounded by dames!

Explorers in Explanation and Persuasion

FTA and Speech both share the desire to explore areas of explanation and persuasion. In FTA this takes the form of learning about new teaching methods to prepare for a teaching career, while speech practices different techniques of speech making. Also in the academic field, a group of students consisting of Steve Gingerich, Fred Fellendorf, and Dirk Kemp, competed in IT'S ACADEMIC. In the first visit to IT'S ACADEMIC we won, however upon our returning visit we took second place.

F.T.A. Officers; Debbie Dundas, Jan Getty, Julane Sullivan, Pam Basten.

Foreign Language Clubs & AFS

Learning a Language — and Liking It!!

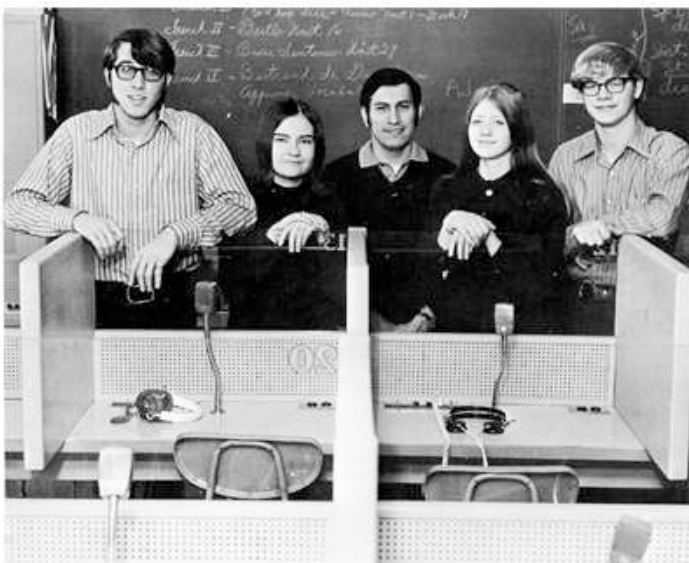

French, Spanish, and A.F.S. Members spent their year raising money to learn first-hand from other cultures. A.F.S. pays for students to enter into the exchange program, Spanish Club raises money to provide a scholarship to study native culture in Mexico, and French Club members are eligible for a trip to France. Along with these programs, there are field trips, dances, dinners, and other activities.

French Club Officers; Nancy Baluk, Karen Brubaker, Rosie Moss, and Karen Kadow.

A.F.S. Officers; Karen Kadow, Julane Sullivan, Cindy Proud, and Terry Nelson.

Spanish Club Officers; Steve Jelinek, Janis Nagel, Mr. Beloz (sponsor), Mary Lou Simonson, and Neil Fischer.

Commercial Club, Library Aides, & A.V.

Lets Get Down to Business

The purpose of Commercial Club is to extend the students interest in business. Their activities are many and varied. During the year, movies were shown, and an Illinois Bell Telephone Representative attended one of the meetings.

Library Aides were a real asset to the library this year. They assisted the students in finding books and magazines, put away books, and helped in keeping them repaired, and kept the library generally clean.

Expanded facilities require more 'aides' and greater responsibilities for the A.V. student volunteers. Some of them could be seen in the hall during class waving to friends while doing tasks assigned to them. They saved the faculty much physical work, such as turning on a phonograph or starting a movie projector, while they learned a little about the school and escaped an hour of study hall.

Commercial Club; Donna Mastandrea, Mrs. Swanson, Karen Marovich. Row 2; Janice McGill, Rita Liaromatis.

A.V.; Front; Dale Frazier, Rich Deacon, Mary Campbell. Back; Chuck Montague, David Avery, Roxanne Giesler.

Library Aides; Roxanne Giesler, Mary Lou Simonson, Ann Gebhardt, Mark Cetwinski.

Co-op

Lisle Joins V.I.C.A.

This is the first year that Co-op has joined V.I.C.A., Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. The purpose of V.I.C.A. was to assist students in establishing vocational goals. V.I.C.A. prepares students for future business by having guest speakers and taking field trips.

Mr. Donald Tooley, co-ordinator; Jeanne Dombrow, President.

Decorating in Different Ways

Art Club used a different approach for the club meetings this year. They had guest artists demonstrate various techniques and then put them into practice.

This Year F.H.A. had many firsts. A kickoff watermelon party was held in September to welcome newcomers. F.H.A. also jointly sponsored the Christmas Dance. Various individuals from this area came to meetings to speak to the girls about their careers.

Band

Making Beautiful Music Together

The 1970-71 LCHS Band directed by Mr. Bartelt, consisted of 72 hard working members who participated in the IHSA Band contest.

Mr. Bartelt also led the band in the annual La Grange Pet Parade; and 3 formal concerts. The band also marched in the Homecoming parade, and the Memorial Day parade, and also provided lively entertainment at all home football, and basketball games.

For a trip the band went North to Wisconsin. They went on another trip to the Candlelight for a play and to have dinner.

Chorus

Our Schools Great Harmony

The Choral Department at LCHS was hard at work this year.

They spent a busy year preparing for the Talen Show, Christmas and Spring Concerts, and the N.E. Conference Festival. Also, "South Pacific" included many of their voices.

The Music Department recognizes that the enjoyment of music is just as important as its performance. Creation of this enjoyment is the underlying purpose of all its endeavors.

CLASSES

Within the walls of our school beats a great feeling of togetherness. Each class looks with pride toward the attainment of its goals. Freshmen want acceptance and work their way through their first year with diligence and eagerness. The Sophomore Class also look toward a successful completion of another year. The Juniors burst with pride at being three-fourths of the way through high school. Seniors, completing their final year, glow with anticipation of opening the door to an exciting future.

We've Only Just Begun

You say you want to find room 104? Well, just follow this hall and turn left. When you see the stairs go up four flights and turn right. Of course, if you don't like climbing stairs I can sell you an Elevator Pass. It's a lot faster and you might make it to class within the allotted three minutes if you have one. What? Oh, it's nothing. It's all just a matter of pride for the school. Sure, we're happy to help any Freshman! Bye, and good luck!

Sophomores

What Is a Sophomore?

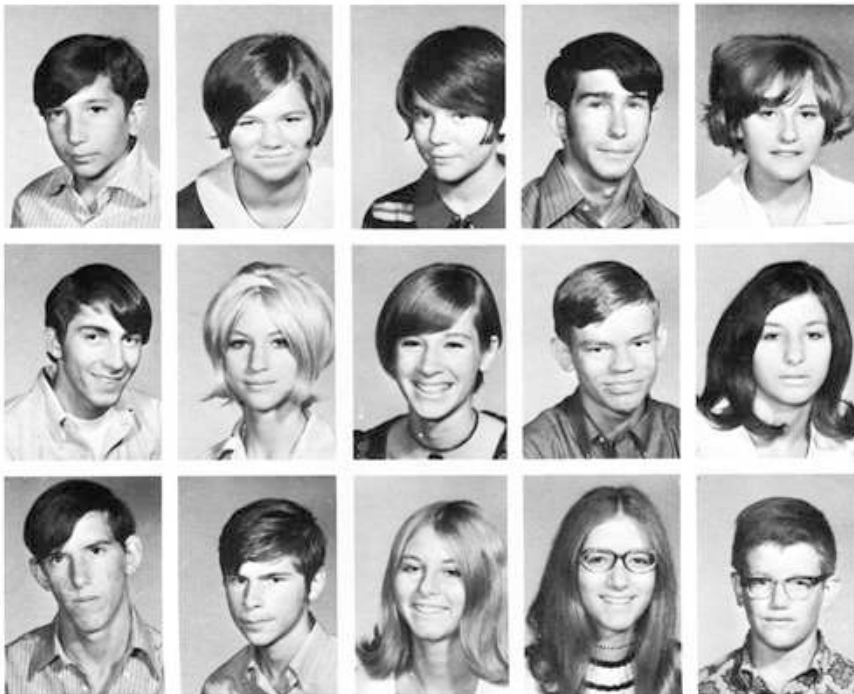

Between the innocence of a Freshman and the dignity of a senior is a Sophomore.

In the dictionary Sophs are defined as foolishly wise ones. This is true, because they combine a natural inclination for school spirit with such serious aspirations as becoming upperclassmen!

Sophomores can be found most anywhere in the school, from swinging from the rafters in the gym, to chasing frogs around the Bio lab.

Proud to Be Part of the "Upper Class"

Three giant steps bring us to the threshold of our Junior year. We are vibrant with the anticipation of what this year holds for us. Will we ever muddle thru Chemistry? How long must we wait for class rings? Will these group lectures go on into infinity? The destiny of the Prom is in our hands.

Finally the epitome of our goal will find us reigning as Senior Class of L.C.H.S.

SENIORS

We the Senior Class of '71 have reached our final plateau. Four years of programmatic living have taught us to be highly selective in our choice of academic subjects as well as the varied activities we have pursued. We fully realize that our accomplishments will be the yardstick which measures our success in the future.

We move forward into the world realizing the heavy responsibility which is ours. As we work out our destiny we promise to do all in our power to make our world a better one in which to live!

It's a matter of pride!

Seniors

Senior Year; the Final Step to Graduation

To us, the word "Senior" means much more than being the only ones in the school allowed out on the Court. We ask ourselves "have we accomplished all we wanted to in these past four years, have we grown up, did we learn as much as we should have, are we ready for what lies ahead?"

There is a certain kind of unity between seniors because we all know that after June 11th, we will separate, go our own way and face the future.

Each member of our class will accomplish something different, but no one will forget his school days at L.C.H.S

Mrs. Doris Straub, Advisor

The 1971 Yearbook Staff is indebted to the many people who made this book possible. Our first and greatest amount of thanks we owe to Mrs. Straub. She worked many long hours on the book, and encouraged us along when our spirits were low. Next, thanks to Mr. Hornbeck for his cooperation, and to Mr. Bull, our representative from American Yearbook Co. Also, thanks to Otto, from Sheridan Peter Pan, for all of the fantastic pictures he took for us. And thanks to everyone else who in any way contributed their help us this year!
