EVENTS

Couples Enjoy Prom

The 1980 junior and senior prom was held at the Glen Ellyn Holiday Inn. The chaperones were Mr. Long, Mr. and Mrs. Whelpley, Mr. and Mrs. Neahaus, Mr. and Mrs. Logeman, Mr. and Mrs. Nalley, and Mr. and Mrs. LeCrone. Music was provided by "Friends and Lovers." The main course at dinner was New York Strip Steak. Girls received necklaces, pins, prom booklets, and brandy snifters as gifts, and guys received beer mugs.

Seniors Graduate

On Friday, June 6, 1980, last year's senior class gathered in the high school gymnasium for the graduation ceremonies. Out of the 170 who graduated, 27 were named Illinois State Scholars, 19 received scholarships, and 14 were members of the National Honor Society. Of the 170 graduates, 124 went on to college or trade school and the remaining 46 went on to work. The Valedictorian and Salutatorian were, respectively, Layla Scheidelman and Leslie Herman. The "I Care" award was presented to Marty Sauer by Dr. Raymond Miller.

"Westward Ho"

"Westward Ho" was the theme of the 1980 homecoming. There were many activities in which the classes participated. The Snake Dance on Friday night started at the Lisle Medical Center and proceeded to the high school, where the coronation of the queen, Jenny Van Duzen, and king, John Saurbier, took place. The final event of the week, the parade, was on Saturday morning. In the float building competition, the juniors came in first, sophomores were second, freshmen third, and seniors last. Despite the fact that the seniors finished last in float building, they won enough of the previous events to win spirit week. The sophomores finished second, the juniors finished third, and the freshmen finished last in the spirit week competition. The homecoming dance took place from 8:00 until 11:00 Saturday night and the band was "Kindred Spirits."

"My Fair Lady" Presented

The spring musical "My Fair Lady" told the "rags-to-riches" story of Eliza Doolittle as she was tutored by professor Henry Higgins and Colonel Pickering.

Phil Modaff played the unfeeling professor who accepts a challenge to transform a poor English flower girl (played by Claire Shayatovich and Kathe Buss) into a sophisticated woman of society. Meanwhile Colonel Pickering, his assistant (played by Paul Fellendorf), did all he could to get the professor and the girl together.

The musical was presented the weekends of March 21, 22 and 28, 29 with such memorable scenes as "Ascot" and "Embassy Waltz" by a cast and crew of over 100 students.

Mrs. Fiore was the drama director and Mrs. Densford was the music director. Judy Nelson was the choreographer, Mrs. Godfrey was the technical director and Miss Lund designed the costumes. Nancy Kmeiciak and Hank Wilson were the student directors.

Broadway In Lisle

The music of Broadway and the Superstars came to Lisle in the form of LSHS students in the fall variety show held Oct. 17 and 18. Superstar soloists as well as superstar groups like the Girls Ensemble, Varsity Choir, Chamber Choir, and Jazz Band sparkled the evenings with their musical and magical talents. Old favorites from "Fiddler on the Roof" and "South Pacific" were performed side-by-side with the new songs from hit artists like Kenny Rogers and Barbra Streisand. The audience also gazed upon the talents of Lisle students as tumblers, dancers and magicians.

Don't Drink the Water

"Don't Drink the Water," a comedy play written by Woody Allen, was presented as part of the 10th Annual AFS-Thespian dinner theatre on Nov. 21 and 22.

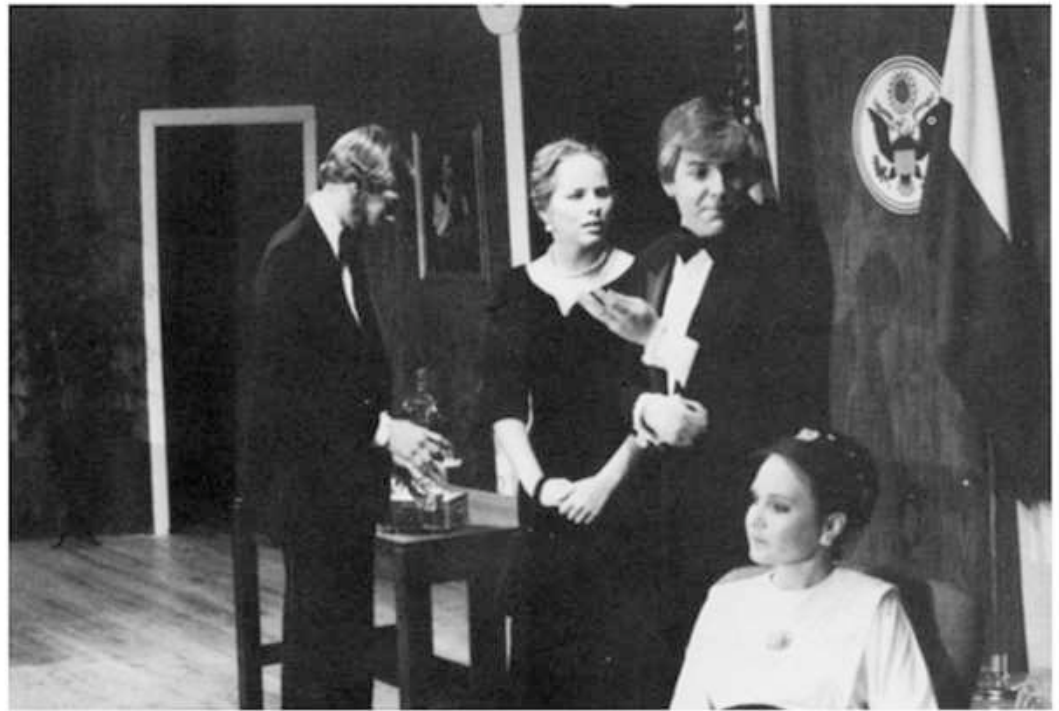

The setting of the play was an American Embassy somewhere behind the Iron Curtain. It told the story of a family vacationing in Europe which accidentally took pictures in a restricted area and sought refuge in the American Embassy.

The comedy starred Gary Ireland as the cynical overworked father, Walter Hollander, and Kathe Buss as his wife. Sallie Allen and Rosemary Bender shared the role of the free-spirited daughter. The Embassy was headed by Ambassador McGee (Pat O'Hearn) and his bumbling son, Axel (Jeff Bourn). The entire story was narrated by Father Drobney, a magical priest living in the embassy at the time, played by John Godfrey.

ACADEMICS

Dr. Miller To Retire

Superintendent of school district 202, Dr. Raymond Miller will retire effective at the end of this year. Dr. Miller has been with the Lisle schools since 1962 and is ending his career after 19 years of service. He plans to stay in Lisle and possibly teach a college course in Education Administration later on.

The school board spent most of the first part of this year with the highly controversial busing issue for the grade school students.

Mr. LeCrone continued working for his doctorate degree of Education and School Administration from the University of Illinois at Champagne-Urbana, this year.

Mr. Long also worked to get several new clubs started. He hopes that clubs such as Pep Club, Industrial Arts Club, Math Club, and a special Model U.N. Club will take hold and become permanent additions to our school.

Hard Working Staff

The secretaries worked many long hours keeping the school in order. Mrs. Sauer is no longer working in the main office. Mrs. Murphy has taken her place in the mornings.

There are two new secretaries working in the athletic department. Mrs. Miller works in the mornings, and Mrs. Shea works in the afternoons.

The kitchen staff provided lunch for 675 students every day. The head custodian, Don Lindemann, with four other custodians, kept the school in top shape during the school year.

Planning a Future

Students prepared and planned their futures with the help of our counselors, Mr. Anderson and Miss Loos. During the year, the counselors were busy trying to encourage freshmen to use the Career Resource Center's occupational information. They also arranged for field trips and career speakers. The counselors also helped juniors and seniors with pre-college exams, and with plans after graduation.

There were many services available through the guidance center. One service was the Career Resource Center (CRC) taken care of by Mrs. Keith. The resource center contained information about occupations, careers, and colleges for the students and staff.

Library Changes

Mrs. Patterson, head of the library, tried to make using the library more enjoyable for everyone. The reference books were moved out of the back racks to make the use of them easier for the students. The librarians were always working hard to build up the reference section with new current material.

One of the attractions the library plans to buy for next year is video recording equipment that will be used by the science, math, and business departments.

Chris Panger, Cindy Lehmann, and Eileen Hunt, take a break from their studies.

Enrollment Grows

The English department increased its enrollment over 100% this year. Students took more English classes than what was required. There were a number of elective classes that the English department offered, including Yearbook, Modern Literature, Writing for College, Creative Writing, Drama, Filmmaking, Business Communication and many others. Mrs. Phinney is the head of the English department.

Mrs. Fiore discusses one of the films her filmmaking class saw.

Science Techniques

Science was one of the strongest academic areas of school as an intergrated cyclic course arrangement. The members of the science department believed that this strength lay in a well planned, laboratory oriented and rigorous approach to science.

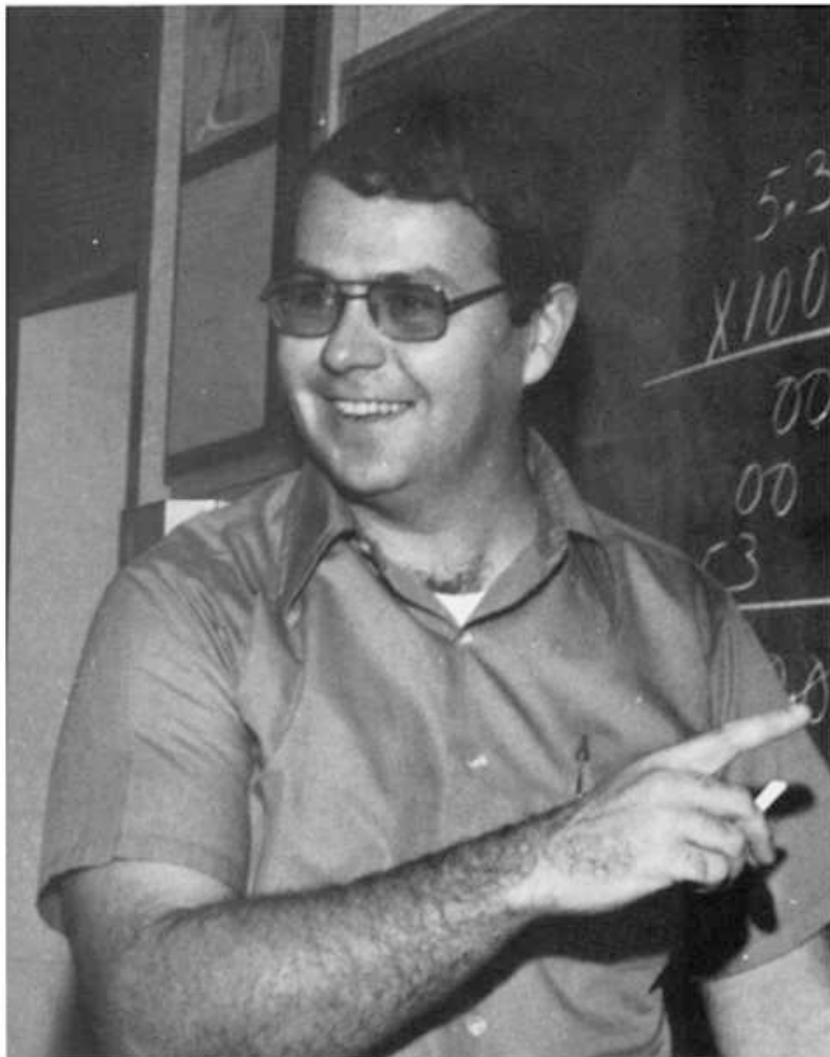

2

Math Has Variety

"The math department offered a variety of courses to meet the needs of the students," said Mr. Pippen, the department Director.

For use in computer classes, taught by Mr. Whelpley, three TRS 80 micro computers were installed this year. The math classes entered many different contest such as the NEC math contest, Mathematical Association of America National math contest, and the Illinois mathematics league. This was also the first year for a Math club, and it was sponsored by Mrs. Smith.

Faculty Enlarges

This year two new faculty members were added to the history department. They were Mrs. Zimmermann and Mr. Murphy. The history staff also consisted of Mr. Baum, Mr. Gollan, and Mr. Neahaus.

American Government became a required class for seniors this year. Some of the other classes were United States history, world history, psychology, geography, sociology, and economics.

2

1. Getting ready to show a film to her class, Mrs. Zimmermann pauses to discuss the meaning of the film. 2. Even out of his classroom, Mr. Neahaus shows his enthusiasm for the students. 3. Mr. Murphy discusses government with his senior history class.

Sophs Learn

Driver education and consumer education were organized this year by Mr. Gollan and Mr. Ciesielski. Mr. Gollan taught the classroom portion of driver education while Mr. Ciesielski taught most of the "behind-the-wheel" training. The driver's education cars were compacts this year, instead of the larger versions used in the past. Mr. Gollan also taught consumer education, a basic course in budgeting and finances. The other half of the required course for sophomores was health class, taught by Mr. Baum.

1. Mr. Ciesielski proudly displays the driver's education car. 2. During a health lecture, Mr. Baum pauses at an amusing moment. 3. Sitting at his desk, Mr. Gollan greets his class.

Business Modernizes

The business department received new IBM Selectric typewriters and books for the typing and business classes this year. Sales classes also used new books for their studies. Mrs. Cunat, who started at Lisle teaching part time last year, began a full schedule this year when she replaced Mrs. Brown. Mrs. Cunat now teaches sales, business law I and II, typing I, accounting, general typing, and introduction to business. Mrs. Cunat also took over the sponsorship of the FBLA club.

Developing Skills

This year, students learned to develop their skills through their experience in vocational classes.

Miss Lund taught a variety of food and design classes. Mr. King showed his students the use of power tools, drafting, and woods.

1. Miss Lund lectures to her Housing and Home Furnishings class.
2. Mr. King is glad the day is over. 3. Working hard in drafting class is Tom Flores.

Languages Speak Out

In the language department, the two teachers were Mrs. Cepek and Mrs. Egerton. Mrs. Cepek taught Spanish I and French I, II, III, and IV. Mrs. Egerton taught Spanish I, II, III, and IV. The students learned the language by listening to tapes that spoke the language, writing in the language, and visual aids.

There were cultural experiences so students could taste the various foods that originated from different countries.

The French department purchased new books for the French classes. Mrs. Cepek and Mrs. Egerton were also in charge of the Modern Language Club. Mrs. Egerton thinks that "Knowing a foreign language is helpful not only to college-bound students. It is helpful in many occupations and while traveling."

1. Mrs. Egerton takes time out of a busy day to smile. 2. Carol Espersen works diligently on her Spanish homework. 3. Mrs. Cepek makes a point to her class.

Part-Time Training

Cooperative education was taught by Mr. Jones. This program was for juniors and seniors who wanted to get a head start in the world of working. Students received part-time vocational instructions in school and on-the-job training. A total of two credits are earned each year for the course. Students worked in factories, restaurants, and stores. The vocational class permitted students to learn a trade or occupation while still in school.

Art Takes Form

The new art class this year was Art Workshop. The enrollment was limited and the students had the opportunity to work independently on any project they wished.

This year the art program consisted of Commercial Art, Drawing and Painting, Ceramics I, II, Art I, II, and Jewelry.

A new Flexible Shaft Polisher machine was purchased for the jewelry department this year.

Programs Added

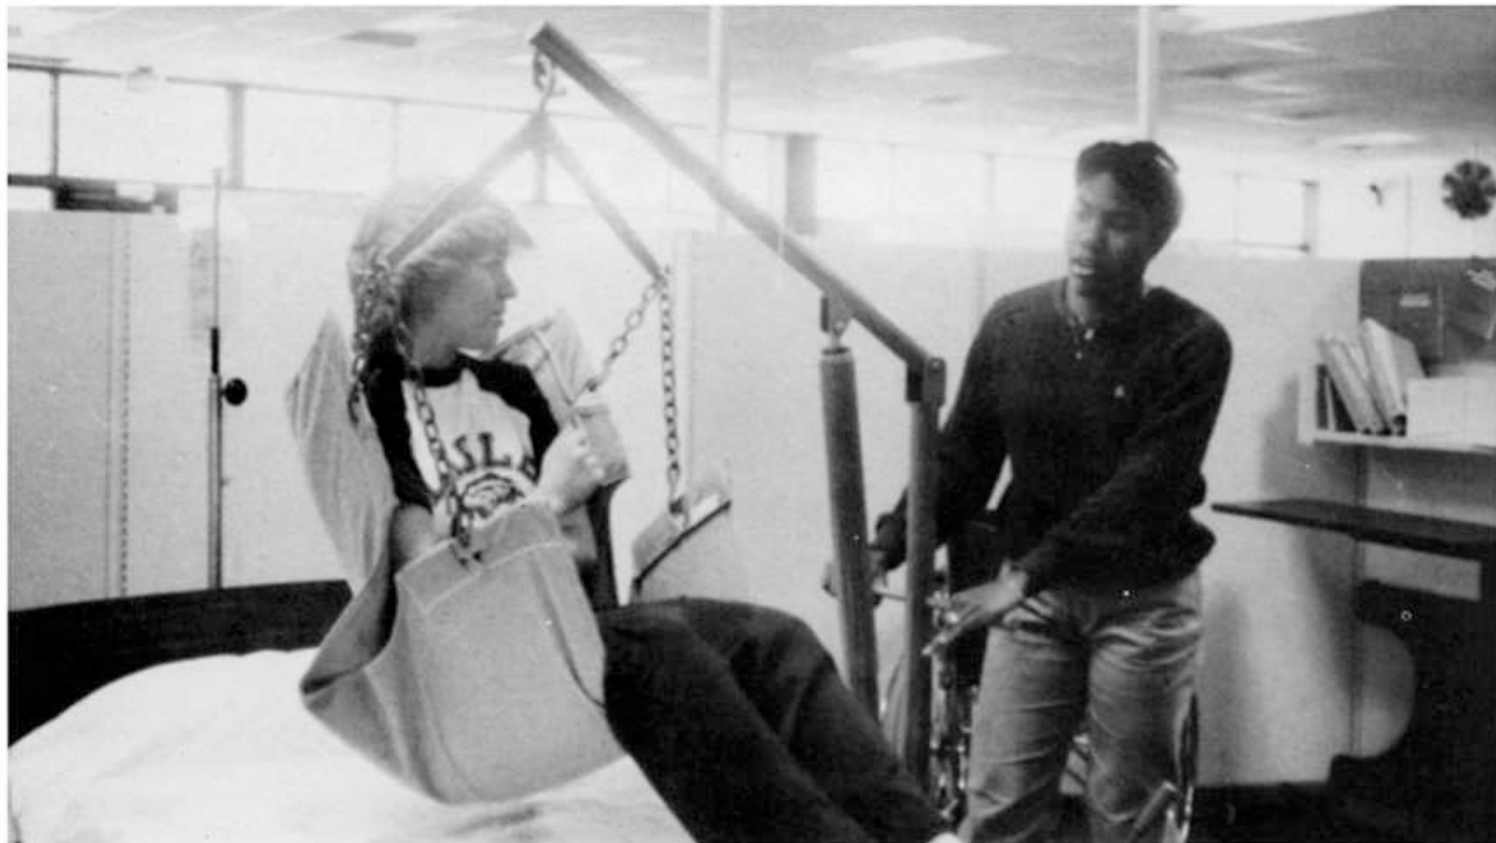

This was Lisle's seventh year of participation in the DuPage Area Vocational Education Authority. Seventy-six students participated in the thirty-four programs offered at DAVEA.

DAVEA added five new courses to its curriculum this year. In the Business/Marketing division, Paraprofessional Accounting/Auditing Records Management, and Finance and Credit Services were added. The Personal and Public Service Division added Domestic Services and Television Production courses. The system was also changed so that seniors attended four periods in the morning and juniors attended three periods in the afternoon, giving the graduating seniors more time at DAVEA.

Gym Teacher Leaves

Mrs. Dilacova will no longer teach P.E. at Lisle. The new teacher to take her place will be Kathy Flannigan. Miss Flannigan began teaching at the beginning of the second semester after Mrs. Dilacova left. Aside from teaching gym class for 15 years, Mrs. Dilacova coached a very successful volleyball team.

Gym classes were co-ed for the second year in a row. Co-ed gym classes enabled students to learn to work together while enjoying sports.

Bands Perform

The Lisle bands, led by Mr. Doug Kuite, engaged in many activities this year. The concert band performed at all home football and basketball games, and gave two concerts. The jazz band performed in the Variety Show in the fall and in the Choral Concert in March. The bands also took a trip to Northwestern University in Evanston and the Wagon Wheel Resort in Rockton Illinois from March 13 through 15. The bands also went to clinics at other schools and participated in several competitions.

Choirs Are Busy

Many activities kept the choirs very busy this year. Led by Mrs. Patricia Densford, they performed both as soloists and as a Varsity Choir and a Chamber Choir in the Variety Show, the Christmas Madrigal Dinner, Winter Concert, Lisle Choral Festival, and their Spring Concert.

A girls' ensemble was formed from the Varsity choir and they also performed at the Variety Show, Northeast Conference, Music Festival, Madrigal Dinner, and Spring Concert.

Misao Visits Lisle

Misao Nabeta from Tokyo Japan was this year's foreign exchange student. She stayed with the Helms family for the year.

Misao was involved in many activities including Chamber Choir, the Variety Show, and the Musical.

AFS sponsored Misao's stay here. Some of the money raising activities were a pizza sale, doughnut sale and the Dinner Theatre co-sponsored with the Thespians Club.

AFS had a short term exchange on February 11 through the 18th with the AFS Club in New Wilmington, Pennsylvania.

Girls' Track Team Wins Invitationals

The young team had a successful season. Girls' track defended its first place title at the Jacobs Invitational. At the Lisle Invitational, frosh-soph also placed first. Both frosh-soph and varsity placed third at the conference meet.

Jackie Bambas, Shawn Donahue, Donna Fisher, Barb Isherwood, Laura Jessen, Deanna Peters, Becky Rosales, Dawn Smith, Jeannie Van Duzen, Dinah Wagner, and Charmen Wells, all broke school records, invitational records, or conference records.

Mrs. Dilacova and Mr. Jones were the coaches of the team. Co-captains were Moira Murphy and Dawn Smith, both juniors. Dawn Smith scored the most points (115) on the team. Most Valuable team member was freshman Laura Jessen.

F-S Are Tough

Despite the effort of the frosh-soph baseball team, it ended up with a 8-10-1 overall record.

With many experienced and returning sophomore players, Coach Logeman felt that the team played very well. The team lost some really close conference games, but always put forth its best.

Leading the team with RBI's was Mike Kitral. Jeff Fender was most consistent, and sophomore Tom Flores was Most Valuable Player.

Varsity Captures Tournament Wins

The turnout for the Varsity Baseball team this year was fairly large. The season was changed back to springtime, after ten years of summer games. Although the Lions only ended up with a 2-6 conference record and a 10-17 record overall, they participated in the State Tournament and won the first two games. In the tournament the Lions beat St. Gregory 11-8 and then Chicago Christian 7-2. Dave Haas was voted Most Valuable Player. Pete Sinnick and Jeff Reavy were elected co-captains.

Sophomores Earn Second in NEC

The Sophomore football team coached by Mr. Pippen, Mr. Logeman, and Mr. Motzer, placed second in the conference. The conference record was 4-2 and their overall record was 5-4.

Brad Johnson, Mike Lobkovich, and Dave Ratzler were named captains by the team. Todd Kristenson and Bill Strimel were named most improved.

The freshman team finished with a 6-3 record overall. They lost their first two games, but as the season progressed the young lions improved. Coach Logeman was pleased with the large turnout for the team.

Young Golfers Win Conference

The eighteen member golf team consisted mainly of juniors and seniors this year. The Varsity record was disappointing to Coach Jones, with only three wins and twelve losses. The frosh-soph had a better season with a record of eleven and four and the conference championship. On the Varsity level, Randy Simpson was second in the N.E.C. followed by Glenn Warren who recieved ninth.

Records Are Broken

This was the third year the Boys' Tennis Team competed. Their over all record was 14 wins and 3 losses. This was the best record since the team started to compete. Three boys won 15 times, breaking the school record. Doug Mills played singles, Paul Henrikson and Tim Gerten played doubles. This year's letter winners were Daryl Barnes, Joe Cienkus, Tim Gerten, Jeff Henrikson, Paul Henrikson, Doug Mills and Dan Shoop. Dan Shoop was named Most Valuable Player third year in a row.

The Girls' Tennis Team won its first meet this year. Tami Nelson, junior, played first singles; Heather Carlisle, sophomore, second singles; and Lisa Speno, freshman, plays third singles. First doubles were Rene Howe and Colleen Ryan. Letter winners were Linda Cameron, Heather Carlisle, Rene Howe, Angela Im, Jeanette Kovacs, Tami Nelson, Misao Nobeta, Colleen Ryan and Lisa Speno. The only senior on the team was Misao Nobeta, our foreign exchange student. Tami Nelson was named Most Valuable Player second year in a row.

It shows your outer appearance,
But never stops to see what's inside.

Margie Swift

OPPORTUNITY

It's time for another step.
You've worked and strived,
Now here's your chance.
Grab it while you can,
Squeeze it for what its worth.

Maybe I'll pass.
It's come so quick.
I don't feel ready.
What if I fail?

It's all part of life.
Reaching, striving,
Waiting for a break,
Taking a chance.

Becky Allen

SUCCESS

I hope so!
Can I survive?
Is there a future in it?
Are they right for me?
Do I want them?
These classes I take.

Joe Cienkus

The Future

The needle lifts,
End of the album.
Shrieking, thundering music
echoes in the brain . . .

Thoughts arise; of tomorrow homework undone, next week the money that is needed, twenty years where will I be . . .
The album is quickly flipped,
Shattering bass drives the thoughts away.

Mark Sreniawski

A Key

I wish I was a key
Why a key?
Because keys fit in.

Fishing for dreams

Bait your hook
And cast your line
Into life's sea
Catch your dreams
And hold on tight
But keep only the biggest and best
Throwing the little one's back.

Pictures of friends,
Cross my mind,
A remedy for losses
I never will find.

Worrying about grades
Worrying about friends
I wonder if the worry ever will End . . .

Memories of old boy friends
lost in the night, fly away like a
lost bird or a kite.

I long to stop,
for the time moves too fast,
But the future is coming
No time for the past.

Goodbye!
Not again, that's so familiar.
Next time you'll be saying hello again . . .
Well if this is what you want—O.K.
But next time don't bother
saying hello again,
I'll still be saying
Goodbye . . .

Marybeth Clark

On top of the world with your head in the clouds,
Hearing the voices, almost out loud.
Seeing the world from a bird's eye-view,
The perspective of life you never really knew.
The reactions of men in their selfish ways,
The kindness passed on in their happier days.
Both in their place, in their own certain time,
Filling the lines of this on going rhyme.

Debbie Brodess

Daddy's Little Girl

I stretch out wearily.
Events of the day

Is there time?
Maybe tomorrow.

Happiness

What is happiness?
If I only knew,
I'd wrap it up fancy,
And give it to you.

Marlow

Friends are wonderful to have
They never let you down,
And if you're in trouble
They'll always be around,

But my friends are special
They have a certain flair,
They have a way about them
That lets you know they care.

Yes, we are very close, my friends
No closer can we be,
We will always be together
True, true friends we.

I'll never be able to say
Just how much you mean to me
Yes, God has blessed me richly
By giving me friends such as these!

S.J.F.

Be home early
Don't be late
"Dad, I'm 17"
Let's not debate.
You're not your brother
You're not your friend
They may stay out late
But for you I won't bend.
I know its rough
But don't get mad
Please understand
It's hard to be a Dad.

Telephones

Heart in love
Telephone

K. Sauer

What you've got to do is bring along your own sunshine,
Golden hot sunlight to melt the darkness around you.
We're going through rough times, but we're going to make it,
And it's going to be better.
You can sit here and mourn, thinking how wonderful it has been.
But not me, I'm determined to get on with it and see Beyond the darkness.
You either move with it or get left behind.
You need stronger light in here.
Open the windows. Fight back a little.
Or else sigh away your summers and winters.
The season will end and the sun will come up all over again . . .
and something new will begin.

Complete

How complete is love?
Why does it compete with life?
Why does it
flow smoothly,
like a stream
to the sea?
Why does it cut painfully
like a knife?
Why does it fill your soul completely like fear?
Why does it keep on going like time?

How complete is love?
Is it high as heaven?
Or deep as hell?
Is it as big as the sky?
Or do I hold it in my hand?
Is it in you?
Or is it just me?

Serenity

Terri McCue

Serenity is a movement,
a peaceful word,
reminding you about quiet mountain streams and Colorado sunsets.
It's a calming word
taming your senses
to obey serene thoughts . . . Anonymous

The football season is over now, and we have won a few games,
The seniors are all finished and will never play again.
The cheers we used are old now, and the fights are now the past.
Another year gone by with our season now at rest.

We go onward into the years with a new outlook on life,
Evaluating our future and planning out our life.
What will we do? and How will we do it?
Are the questions we now face.
For it all depends on your decision, it's your own final fate!

On through the years we will look back at these times, and wish we were back once again in that certain space in time
The fun we had and the memories we created will live forever more,
And be a unique part of us that we will remember
All the more.

Twentieth Century Man

In the jungle of these times,
Honest love is so hard to find,
In the world of video
Computers tell you what to do.
The world's devoted to the dollar-sign.
Remote-controlled and on the line.
Plug in man on the rack
Waiting for disaster
And no chance to die.

. Tomorrow and Tomorrow, and Tomorrow

John Bellandi

1. Drawing by Jim Winz

She nervously stands, viewed by many, yet so alone . . .

Waiting as her youthful, flawless face becomes streaked with tears.

Slowly she begins her short, paced walk that seems to take forever to end.
reaching her destiny,
their sad eyes briefly meet,
as they join hands.

Words are heard, then
She repeats them . . . yet they mean nothing.
Her tear filled eyes wander to the ground as she hesitantly brings her shaky hand forward, allowing a false bond to be placed upon her finger, symbolizing a feeling that will never exist.

Finally

Marybeth Clark

We made our mistakes and they out-numbered our fun.

We played silly games but no one won.

We told how we felt and said that we cared,

But deep down inside there just wasn't enough to be shared

You went your way and I went mine,

Yet I think we both knew this was how it would end up in time.

The memories I have will never perish.

And despite what has happened
they will always be cherished.

You gave me something and I hope I gave something to you,

But there is nothing left either one of us can do.

Its over and done completely through,

Yet forever will remain that special feeling I have for you.

Marybeth Clark

The Unanswered Love

The pain from a love which has not been returned is seldom appreciated and thrice less yearned.

She gave no response to the love that I had
She craved no affection from this lowly lad.

She held the magic power to make my heart chime
But also it was silent
for she had no time.

My heart it was silent
as the flight of a dove
The unanswered question of an unanswered love.

C.L.

Yesterday I went to the beach
To build a sandcastle.
It rained.

Today I went again.
I built my sandcastle
And just as I finished a giant Descended upon it and Destroyed it.
Leaving no traces.

Tomorrow
I will try again.

Swaying in the chilling wind
Months go by, striving for life
Suddenly a thaw occurs

A Reflection of Yourself

Look at all the strange people around.
Ha! See that one over there?
She thinks she's Bo Derek with those braids.
And look at him.
The one in the jogging suit.
He acts like he's Bruce Jenner.
Who's he trying to fool?
Everyone's trying to be somebody they're not.
Look at that fat cow squeezing into those designer jeans.
Like someone will think she's a model.
Hey! This one takes the cake!
I don't know WHO she's trying—
oh. its a mirror.

Amy Barber

Conform

Don't create.
Don't rebel.
Don't be unique.
Don't be an individual.
DON'T THINK!

Dress like me.
Talk like me.
Move like me.
Think like me.

BE ME!

CONFORM!

Amy Barber

Saying Goodbye . . .

There's happiness combined
With the pain within my mind.
You gave me feelings
That I never knew existed.
And all you'd do is laugh
And all my defenses would be lifted.
And I love you.
You're sketched so softly in my eyes
And like a fountain
I offer no disguise.
And babe, I'm glad I never tried.

Stephanie Queen

We reach for more,
But never receive,
We cannot stop now
Because of greed.
Are we so selfish
We must have more?
If this is so,
Then what can I say?
How can I be proud of one,
That must act that way?

E. Hunt

Single memories day by day,
Onward and upward in every way.
Stuck in your mind forever more,
Kept behind your own key locked door.

Debbie Brodess

They Still Remain

As she enters into the familiar room, she realizes nothing has really changed over the past four years. All the memories and secrets held within the pink walls
Still remain.
The crisp, once scented flowers, now browned from age, are still hanging from her cluttered bulletin board along with photographed friends, love poems, and wine labels saved from prom.
As she enters the room, the flowers turn fresh again, the photographs come alive and the tangy flavor of the wine they both shared lingers once again within her mouth.
The familiar sound of her favorite, old album echoes through her mind as she notices the torn jackets stacked so neatly in the corner by her dust covered stereo.
As her eyes continue to wander over memories enclosed within the cozy room, her thoughts are broken by the view of her old, wornout alarm clock as it wakes her from the dreams
just like it used to do
So long ago.

Marybeth Clark

Halloween

Halloween is a frightful day, when someone is scared in some frightful way.

When spooks and witches are out to scare,
some little children out everywhere.

The ghosts go "Boo" and the goblins scream,
They're all out to get you in their mean little team.

This is their night to have all their fun,
to scare little children and laugh while they run.

Halloween is also a time to eat,
when you go out to trick or treat.

You dress up in costumes and go out to play,
because it is a very fun and special day.

So, when you go out, go out in the day.
Don't go out at night—just stay way.

Lori Zalusky

Tricking, deceiving, uplifting,
All things seem possible.

WEEKENDS WERE MADE FOR...

9-12

First Place Winners

During Homecoming Week the senior class participated in many activities: float building, hall decorations, powder puff football, fun day, and many others. Overall the senior class won the homecoming week activities.

The enrollment of the senior class was approximately 170 students. Mr. Neahaus was the sponsor of the senior class.

The Home and School Organization sponsored the Senior Banquet May 21, 1981. The seniors' graduation ceremony was June 5, 1981.

Juniors' Dance Raises Money

The juniors thought of many different ways to raise money. Among them were a 50's dance and a candy cane sale for Christmas. They also ran the concession stand for the football games and sold "Touch of Class" buttons.

The class chose Kitty Espersen as president, Jeff Bourn and Barb Roberts as representatives. The treasurer was Diane Pasquini.

Sophs Take 2nd

This year's sophomores came in second in over-all competition during Homecoming week.

They took first in powder puff football for the second year in a row, with their cheerleaders also getting first. The class received second for their float and in urban cowboy day.

To raise money for next year's prom, "Lisle Lions," bumper stickers were sold.

The class was led by Shaun Donohue as president, Charis Allgaier as secretary-treasurer, representatives were Heather Carlisle and Debbie MacPherson.

Class of '84 Shows Promise

Even though the freshman class placed a disappointing fourth during this year's spirit week, the freshmen worked well together and showed a lot of promise for the future.

Mrs. Phinney, the freshman class sponsor, said that they had some very good organizers. She also said that there are many freshmen who have lots of spirit and who are good workers. With all that in their favor, they will do well in the years to come.
